

CANALETTO

Design by

Mauro Lipparini

Description

CONCEPT & DESCRIPTION:

"Canaletto's modular nature opens up new horizons in terms of storage, but also displaying and showcasing... Closed modules and open modules with staggered vertical separations confer remarkable graphic lightness reminiscent of the tableaux of the view painter Canaletto.

The closed chests are given substantial and extremely significant character on the vertical profile for doors or horizontal profile for flap doors and drawers. These elements are banded in profiles with one projecting handle in 'Canaletto walnut'.

The finish options transform a furniture system into a jewel with a unique spirit which draws the attention to the manufacturing details and a refined appearance. With Canaletto, putting together a composition will no longer be a puzzle or a series of difficult choices between function and aesthetics.

Canaletto is an essential expression of a tranquil design response to the practical demands of modern life." - Mauro Lipparini

An elegant modular range combining lacquer with solid wood. Note the quality of finish is exemplified by the dark walnut lip which serves as a handle for the doors. It responds perfectly to contemporary requirements of a modular system, offering solutions for hi-fi and storage, plus shelving and a sideboard.

Items are created by juxtaposing elements. Once the structure is defined - H 19 3/4" - 50 cm (TV unit), H 29 1/2" - 75 cm (sideboard), H 57" - 145 cm or H 82 3/4" - 210 cm then W 26 1/2" - 67 cm or W 53 1/4" - 135 cm - it can then be completed in a number of ways. Shelving can be located in the lower section with a door above, or vice versa. One could also have full-height shelving, or even close the space completely. The end result of this is an undeniably original style with a powerful identity.

The shelving can be equipped with 2 or 3 optional illuminated vertical separations (predefined) to provide refined, indirect LED lighting (LED ribbon, glued in place, with a reflector which slides along the vertical panel).

A two-door chest has the unique feature of having only one handle on the right door. This touch of visual lightness is all part of the overall minimalism. The left-hand door may be opened via a finger-hold on the edge once the right-hand door has been opened.

With a sense of proportion that balances rhythm, Lipparini's new modular range is both luxurious and high-end. Thanks to its simplicity, it is immediately comprehensible.

The lacquer colors have been selected with care: elements may be one finish (Plomb or Perle lacquer) or these two lacquer colors may be combined with [dark] Canaletto walnut veneer. Argile lacquer is always paired with [dark] Canaletto walnut veneer and interiors of chests in argile lacquer are always in plomb lacquer.

The doors have a vertical solid dark [Canaletto] walnut lip on both left and right (horizontal bands). The drop flap/drawers have a vertical solid dark [Canaletto] walnut lip on both the top and bottom (vertical bands).

Chests with shelving play with negative space as the shelves do not extend to the sides. Rather the shelves seem to float within the unit. The subtle nature of the indirect LED lighting, and the addition of an optional glass shelf (green tinted, H-shaped) in the shelving unit reinforces the understated elegance of the alliance of materials.

Canaletto is one of the best-finished ranges in our collections, this is a true work of cabinet maker.
